

Junior Master Gardener

COMING TO YORK COUNTY: SEPTEMBER 2010 - MAY 2011

WHAT: Innovative 4-H youth gardening project modeled after the highly successful Master Gardener Program. JMG teaches horticulture and environmental education and leadership through fun and creative activities.

WHO: For Youth grades 3 to 5. Youth can become certified Junior Master Gardeners by attending all classes and completing monthly individual activities found in the Student Book.

WHEN: Class will meet once a month from September 2010 until May 2011. Classes will be held on the 3rd Tuesday of each month from 9:00 until Noon. (In December the meeting will be held on 12-14-10 due to holidays)

WHERE: Glencairn Garden Learning Center in Rock Hill

FEE: $50 and includes JMG Student Book

TEACHERS: Kiersten Rugg, Environmental Educator with the City of Rock Hill and Margie Sippel, York County Extension Agent

CONTACT: Margie Sippel, 684-9919 ext. 113 or msippel@clermson.edu

SPONSORS: City of Rock Hill, Clemson University Extension 4-H

Junior Master Gardener Registration Form

Name:

Mailing Address:

Telephone:

Mail this form along with $50.00 payment (payable to Clemson University) to:
York County Clemson Extension, 120 N. Congress Street, York, SC 29745